COMMON SENSE PLATFORM OF PRES. COOLIDGE

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH GIVEN LAST NIGHT

INESTIMABLE MILLIONS HEARD THE ADDRESS BY RADIO

"GREATEST ASSET OF THIS COUNTRY IS COMMON SENSE," SAID COOLIDGE

(By United Press)
(The complete text of President Coolidge's speech of accepting the Republican nomination will be found on Page 4.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—A distinguished gathering of officials, diplomats and society folks turned into a cheering rally for President Coolidge when he presented his common sense platform to them in his acceptance speech in Memorial Continental Hall last night.

Enthusiasm thundered through the little hall as the crowd of 2,000 acclaimed the formal opening of the republican nominee's campaign. Inestimable millions, stretching around the world, heard by radio the demonstration which started when Secretary of State Hughes first stepped up and called for three cheers for Coolidge. From that time on the assemblage resembled what Coolidge students call a "pop" meeting on the eve of a big football game.

The galleries roared, "What's the matter with Coolidge?" and the answer came back, "He's all right."

The greatest demonstration, however, was staged when the president, attired in conventional afternoon attire with black coat and striped trousers, gave this keynote:

"It is well for the country to have liberality in thought and progress in action, but its greatest asset is common sense."

About 25,000 persons gathered outside the famous old hall where the international conference for arms limitation was held three years ago and heard proceedings through amplifiers.

Fifteen radio stations throughout the country were linked up by long distance telephone to the microphone in the hall and their broadcasting was heard, according to some estimates, by as many as 25,000,000 persons.

Mr. Coolidge was introduced by Frank W. Mondell, chairman of the notification committee, who said that the president holds the confidence of the people.

"The American people know this confidence is well-deserved," Mondell said. "It has the sound and substantial basis of your faith in American principles and institutions and confidence in the will and capacity of the American people to solve all their problems in harmony with their constitutional scheme and plan of government."

CLEAR CUT STATEMENT OF COOLIDGE VIEWS

Washington, Aug. 15.—With a clear cut statement of his views in the hands of the people, President Coolidge today surrendered the direction of his campaign to his managers and prepared to take a brief rest at his boyhood Vermont home.

The president, accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge, their son John and a small staff of secretaries, will leave tonight for Plymouth, Vt., where the president intends to enjoy the open air life on his father's farm.

Accepting the republican nomination last night in a speech to a crowd of thousands in and around Memorial Continental hall and to millions of radio listeners in, the president definitely proclaimed domestic issues to be, in his opinion, paramount in the campaign.

He selected from among them for primary emphasis still more rigid economy in government and further tax reduction along the lines of the Mellon plan.

"I want the people of America to be able to work less for the government and more for themselves," he said. "The costs of government are all assessed on the people. Unless we can re-establish a condition under which the earnings of the people can be kept by the people we are bound to suffer a very distinct curtailment of liberty."

Severe Shock in Tokio, People Panic Stricken

The president squarely joined issue with John W. Davis on "honesty in government" and with LaFollette on a new economic order.

"There are those who disregard all this (republican achievements) to convince themselves and others that the chief issue of this campaign is honest government," he said. "In all my studies of political history," he continued with a tinge of irony, "I cannot recall an administration which was desirous of a dishonest and corrupt government," that established budgets, cut taxes and worked for world peace, as the republicans have done.

"The government is sound. The people of the country hate corruption. They know my position. They know the law will be enforced."

Striking at the LaFollette charges that the republican party favors privilege and monopoly the president said bluntly: "We oppose the artificial supports of privileges and monopoly because they are both unjust and uneconomic. They are not right. They do not work."

The president opened his speech with a simply worded acceptance of the nomination and immediately plunged into a review of the accomplishments of the republican party, since its return to power in 1921.

He listed among the achievements the resumption of diplomatic relations with all nations, except Russia, the budget system, reduction of public debt and partial funding of the foreign debt, restrict immigrant, protective tariff and the Washington conference. America's chief concern is her domestic affairs, the president said, yet continued:

"America, under Providence, has come to be a nation of great responsibility. It exists as one of the family of nations. We cannot be isolated." To meet this international obligation, the president proposed adherence to the world court, but reaffirmed his intention to remain aloof from the League of Nations. He expressed hopefulness that the Dawes plan would solve Europe's difficulties and again announced his intention of sponsoring another disarmament conference when the plan appears to be in operation.

With this reference to foreign relations the president passed back to domestic affairs.

"Agriculture," he said, "has seen a partial relief come in a natural way and declared the path to greater prosperity lay through 'more organization, co-operation, diversification,' a 'wise, skilled and unselfish leadership' and continued protection by tariff."

The president announced his intention of appointing a committee to investigate and report measures to congress in December to put agriculture on a basis of economic equality with other industries, in accordance with the republican platform.

Concerning his determination to further reduce costs of government and taxation, he said:

"Taxes take from every one a part of his earnings and force everybody to work a certain part of his time for the government."

He reaffirmed his intention to press congress for more tax reduction. Particularly in high surtaxes, arguing such a course was the surest "guarantee of prosperity."

"Good business is worth more to the small income tax payer than a considerable percentage of tax reduction."

After a declaration that economy would be enforced in the conduct of his campaign he devoted a few words to lesser issues; the supreme court's powers should not be tampered with; women are to be welcomed in politics as a new force; government operation is to be avoided; negroes must be protected in their constitutional rights; prohibition will be enforced "as best I can;" child labor should be abolished; the army and navy should be efficiently maintained.

A possible reference to the Ku Klux Klan was contained in the sentence, "this is one country; we are one people, united by common interests. There should be no favorites and no outcasts; no race or religious prejudices in government."

These views, the president said, he submitted to the electorate with "abiding faith in the judgment of the American people."

Brainerd Lands Elks Convention

Brainerd landed the big Elks state convention for 1925. In a message to the Dispatch Delegate James J. Nolan wired: "Brainerd unanimous choice of Minnesota State Association B. P. O. Elks for 1925 session."

Well, the old town felt like ringing the firebell, blowing the N. P. shop whistle and starting a Joe Bush tar barrel bonfire.

Agencies contributing to the success of landing the convention were the delegates, James J. Nolan, who presented Brainerd Elks claims, the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club, Lions club, Game Protective league, 10,000 Lakes association through R. R. Wise, president; A. B. Smith, general traffic manager of the Northern Pacific railway, W. H. Gemmell, president Minnesota & International railway, Brainerd Dispatch and others.

NEW FEDERAL GRAIN GRADES ARE DESIGNATED

DESIGNED TO GIVE THE NORTH- WEST FARMERS FAIRER TREATMENT

CONFORM MORE CLOSELY TO GRADES OF MINNESOTA RAIL- ROAD COMMISSION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 15.—The new Federal grain grades designed to give Northwest farmers fairer treatment went into effect today.

These grades conform more closely to the original grades of the Minnesota Railroad Commission than the old Federal grades, according to F. W. Matson, state railroad and warehouse commissioner. The new grades, he said, come into effect at an opportune time, as indications point to a heavy crop with good prices, which will mean greater profits to the farmers, he said.

ANOTHER FIGHT ON LEAGUE OF NON-PARTISANS

INDEPENDENTS, KNOWN AS "REGULAR" REPUBLICANS GET BUSY IN NORTH DAKOTA

URGE A FULL TICKET OF CANDI- DATES IN THE COMING FALL ELECTION

(By United Press)
Fargo, N. D., Aug. 15.—Independents, known as the "regular" republicans, lined up today to make another fight on the Non-Partisan League.

At a conference lasting two days the "real Republicans" after urging a full ticket of candidates in the fall election, adopted resolutions inviting everyone opposed to the Non-Partisan League to join hands with them in the fight. A committee was appointed to conference on differences and will meet here tomorrow.

The gathering decided to try to draw all independent forces together behind the Coolidge-Dawes banner. The president was given an unqualified endorsement.

FIGHT AGAINST KU KLUX KLAN JUST STARTED

WALTON, IMPEACHED GOVERN- OR OF OKLAHOMA, MAKES DECLARATION TODAY

FORMALLY LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR ELECTION TO UNITED STATES SENATE

(By United Press)
Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 15.—"The fight against the Ku Klux Klan has just started," "Iron Jack" Walton, impeached governor of Oklahoma, declared today, in formally launching his campaign for election to the United States Senate. Walton, who received the democratic nomination in the recent state primary, after he had stumped the state with the secret order his only issue, will support the national democratic platform.

"While much is being said with reference to agreements and treaties, world courts and peace conferences, we must not lose sight of our first duty, which is stabilizing our own government and securing our people peace, prosperity and relief from masked terrors of usurpation of our governmental functions by an invisible government," he said. "My fight against the Klan is just starting. The constitution was amended to free the negroes; it can be amended to rid the nation of this white-hooded but blacklisted body that would rule the country with its blackened hands."

MORE TROUBLE IN THE ST. PAUL POLICE FORCE

BLOW ON JAW CAUSED DEATH OF PATROLMAN FRANK MILANOSKI

PETER LIKO, FORMER DEPUTY SHERIFF, HELD ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 15.—A blow on the jaw today caused the death of Patrolman Frank Milanoski.

Peter Liko, former deputy sheriff, struck the blow and was held by police pending filing of a murder or manslaughter charge.

Milanoski was struck in an altercation over the arterial highway law. He fell to the pavement and fractured his skull.

Sheriff Wagner said Liko committed the blow as deputy sheriff expired two years ago. In spite of this, police said he attempted to arrest Milanoski for an alleged infringement of the highway law. Milanoski, off duty and driving his family car, insisted upon his rights and was struck as he stepped from his car, according to the police version.

INTERNATIONAL ISSUES TAKE OBSCURE PLACE

DOMESTIC ISSUE REVOLVES ON HOW GOVERNMENT SHALL BE CONDUCTED

"GIVE IT BACK TO THE PEOPLE" IS BATTLE CRY OF LA- FOLLETTE

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 15.—"Government" was the real issue before the country in the national campaign of 1924, which opened officially today with three tickets in the field for the presidency.

Basing his appeal for support on the record of the republican administration, President Coolidge adopted "common sense in government" as the slogan on which he hopes to succeed himself in the White House.

"Honesty in government" is the charge that John W. Davis, democratic candidate, will hurl at the republicans in an effort to win the support of the voters.

"Give the government back to the people," is the battle cry of Senator La Follette with which he hopes to arouse the electorate and bring victory to the independent standard.

While many minor issues have been raised by the three candidates, party leaders are agreed that all other matters revolve around the fundamental question of how the government shall be conducted.

International issues, paramount in 1920, and playing a big part in 1916, have been relegated to a comparatively obscure place by the one big domestic issue being discussed from the viewpoints of the three candidates.

Although the interests of labor and agriculture depend in large part upon legislation, the principal question laid before the voters is the manner in which their affairs shall be conducted.

FARMER THINKS DEAD WOMAN IS HIS DAUGHTER

WAS FOUND MURDERED UNDER DRAINAGE DITCH AT NEW- MARKET, IOWA

ELMER MCKINNEY OF HERRICK, S. D., NOTIFIES AUTHORI- TIES

(By United Press)
Clarinda, Ia., Aug. 15.—The identity of the woman found murdered under a drainage ditch bridge at Newmarket Wednesday afternoon was believed established today when Elmer McKinney, Herrick, S. D., farmer, telephoned county authorities here that the description of the dead girl tallies exactly with his daughter, Lillian, 22, who left home with Carl Hough, 23, on August 5.

Hough, McKinney said, was recently paroled from the Iowa reformatory.

The description of a man who traded a suitcase for a quantity of gasoline also tallies with that of Hough, who sometimes goes under the name of Wilson, McKinney said. The man told the filling station proprietor that his name was Harry Wilson.

BANDITS STEAL TRUCKLOAD EGGS FROM GENERAL STORE

(By United Press)
Redwood Falls, Minn., Aug. 15.—Bandits broke into the Kingsley general store last night and carried off a whole truckload of eggs destined for Twin City consumption.

The robbers loaded 45 cases of eggs on a truck and drove in the direction of Minneapolis. The load was valued at $160.

HEAVY RAINFALL DELAYS FLIGHT OF THE YANKEE FLIERS

(By United Press)
Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 15.—The American round the world airmen were unable to take off early today for Greenland owing to heavy rainfall here.

The fliers will attempt to take off tomorrow morning provided the weather has been cleared.

WILL HOP OFF FOR A NEW BASE

Washington, Aug. 15.—The American world fliers will hop off from Iceland for a new base just south of Angmagalik on the west coast of Greenland, it was announced at the War Department today.

Knowledge of the plan was contained in messages received from Lieut. Smith, flight commander and Bissell, advance officer.

Establishment of a new base "will reduce the hazard," the message stated. "Destroyers Berry and Coghlan sailed from Indian Harbor August 13 to take positions for Angmagalik. Clear weather inside ice and at Angmagalik."

GERMANY IN REPLY TO THE ALLIED PARLEY

TEUTON PRONOUNCEMENT AS NEITHER YES NOR NO ANSWER

OFFERS CONTRARY SUGGESTION TO RUHR EVACUATION PROPOSAL

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 15.—Germany's reply to the Allied proposal that Franco-Belgian evacuation of the Ruhr takes place one year after the Dawes reparations program becomes effective arrived here early this afternoon and German representatives immediately prepared it for delivery to the conference.

It was strongly indicated that the conference on the Dawes report would be confronted with the necessity of making a new proposal, as the German reply was authoritatively described as neither a yes or no answer, but a contrary suggestion. The ultimatum-like atmosphere about the Allied procedure yesterday when the Allied conferees joined in supporting the proposal of Premier Herriot of France for an "out of the Ruhr one year hence" program, had placed the German government in an embarrassing situation.

It is believed that for this reason the German representatives will urge their compromise suggestion so as to have a talking point in the Reichstag when the conference goes before that body to win its approval of the conference decisions.

The Germans now expect to deliver their reply to Premier Herriot's proposal to the inter-allied conferees about 6:30 p. m.

The replies are being based on almost continuous observations and suggestions being received from Berlin. There has been a stream of these messages at the headquarters of the German delegation during the day from Berlin. Chancellor Marx is keeping Prime Minister MacDonald informed as to the Berlin requests. He is in touch with MacDonald every hour.

GERMANY DECIDES TO ACCEPT PROPOSAL

London, Aug. 15.—The German government has decided to accept the proposal of the allied conferees on the Dawes report, provided there is Franco-Belgian evacuation of the Ruhr within a year, it was stated in high quarters here this evening.

The favorable word emanated from authoritative Allied circles, and while no confirmation had been given in German quarters up to 8 o'clock tonight, it was reported that the acceptance of the Allied program would be announced either late tonight or tomorrow.

COMES NEAR THE ANNIVERSARY OF GREAT DISASTER

INHABITANTS RUSH INTO THE STREETS SHOUTING AND SCREAMING

BROKEN CHINA AND CROCKERY ABOUT ONLY DAMAGE DONE

(By United Press)
Tokio, Aug. 15.—Tokio, with the anniversary of the earthquake disaster of last September drawing near, was in a high state of tension today as the result of a severe shake which visited the city and was general throughout eastern and northern Japan at 12:30 a. m. today.

The shock was one of the most severe since the destructive earthquake of September 1, 1923.

In many sections of Tokio the people were panic stricken, and inhabitants of the poorer sections rushed into the streets shouting and screaming. About one-third of the guests of the Imperial Hotel, headquarters, for foreign visitors, fled.

Investigation showed that broken china and crockery was the only damage done.

TWO BOYS ASK DARROW TO TAKE HAND IN HEARING

LOEB TO TAKE STAND AND LEOPOLD TO EXAMINE HIM

LEOPOLD ALSO WISHES TO CROSS- EXAMINE STATE WIT- NESSES

(By United Press)
Criminal Courtroom, Chicago, Aug. 15.—Dick Loeb and Nathan Leopold have asked Clarence Darrow, their chief defense attorney, to be permitted to take a hand in their murder hearing before Justice John R. Caverly—Loeb to take the stand and Leopold to examine him and also to cross-examine state witnesses.

Loeb and Loeb are not satisfied fully with the manner in which Darrow and the Bachrach brothers are carrying on their defense. The youths favor a more vigorous policy. Loeb said he wants to go on the stand to tell "the real story," a member of the defense revealed to the United Press.

"Of course, Loeb has already told all about the case and I doubt whether he has anything to add to his story," this person said.

Dr. James Whitney Hall, chief defense alienist, corroborated the story of the request of Nathan and Richard.

"Leopold is a lawyer of no mean ability," Dr. Hall said. "He is very eager to take a hand in the cross-examination."

As Darrow has definitely made up his mind against permitting either of the boys to go on the stand, there is little anticipation for a change of heart. Today's session of court convened at 10:30 a. m., Dr. Rollin T. Woodyatt, pathologist and specialist in endocrines, was put on the stand by the state at the opening session.

Mrs. Julius Glickson, Wife of Merchant, Died at Devils Lake

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—The funeral of Mrs. Julius Glickson, 32, former St. Paul resident and wife of a prominent merchant of Devils Lake N. D., was held this afternoon at Rockstroh undertaking rooms here. Burial was at the Sons of Jacob cemetery. Mrs. Glickson died yesterday at Devils Lake. She is survived by her husband and one son, nine years old, two brothers, Morris Glickson, Devils Lake, and Abraham Glickson, Fullerton, Neb., and two sisters, Mrs. H. Shark, Devils Lake, and Mrs. Hirsch, Los Angeles.

HEAVY RAINFALL DELAYS FLIGHT OF THE YANKEE FLIERS

(By United Press)
Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 15.—The American round the world airmen were unable to take off early today for Greenland owing to heavy rainfall here.

The fliers will attempt to take off tomorrow morning provided the weather has been cleared.

WILL HOP OFF FOR A NEW BASE

Washington, Aug. 15.—The American world fliers will hop off from Iceland for a new base just south of Angmagalik on the west coast of Greenland, it was announced at the War Department today.

Knowledge of the plan was contained in messages received from Lieuts. Smith, flight commander and Bissell, advance officer.

Establishment of a new base "will reduce the hazard," the message stated. "Destroyers Berry and Coghlan sailed from Indian Harbor August 13 to take positions for Angmagalik. Clear weather inside ice and at Angmagalik."

GERMANY IN REPLY TO THE ALLIED PARLEY

TEUTON PRONOUNCEMENT AS NEITHER YES NOR NO ANSWER

OFFERS CONTRARY SUGGESTION TO RUHR EVACUATION PROPOSAL

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 15.—Germany's reply to the Allied proposal that Franco-Belgian evacuation of the Ruhr takes place one year after the Dawes reparations program becomes effective arrived here early this afternoon and German representatives immediately prepared it for delivery to the conference.

It was strongly indicated that the conferees on the Dawes report would be confronted with the necessity of making a new proposal, as the German reply was authoritatively described as neither a yes or no answer, but a contrary suggestion. The ultimatum-like atmosphere about the Allied procedure yesterday when the proposal of Premier Herriot of France for an "out of the Ruhr one year hence" program, had placed the German government in an embarrassing situation.

It is believed that for this reason the German representatives will urge their compromise suggestion so as to have a talking point in the Reichstag when the conference goes before that body to win its approval of the conference decisions.

The Germans now expect to deliver their reply to Premier Herriot's proposal to the inter-allied conferees about 6:30 p. m.

The replies are being based on almost continuous observations and suggestions being received from Berlin. There has been a stream of these messages at the headquarters of the German delegation during the day from Berlin. Chancellor Marx is keeping Prime Minister MacDonald informed as to the Berlin requests. He is in touch with MacDonald every hour.

GERMANY DECIDES TO ACCEPT PROPOSAL

London, Aug. 15.—The German government has decided to accept the proposal of the allied conferees on the Dawes report, provided there is Franco-Belgian evacuation of the Ruhr within a year. It was stated in high quarters here this evening. The favorable word emanated from authoritative Allied circles, and while no confirmation had been given in German quarters up to 8 o'clock tonight, it was reported that the acceptance of the Allied program would be announced either late tonight or tomorrow.

COMES NEAR THE ANNIVERSARY OF GREAT DISASTER

INHABITANTS RUSH INTO THE STREETS SHOUTING AND SCREAMING

BROKEN CHINA AND CROCKERY ABOUT ONLY DAMAGE DONE

(By United Press)
Tokio, Aug. 15.—Tokio, with the anniversary of the earthquake disaster of last September drawing near, was in a high state of tension today as the result of a severe shake which visited the city and was general throughout eastern and northern Japan at 12:30 a. m. today.

The shock was one of the most severe since the destructive earthquake of September 1, 1923.

In many sections of Tokio the people were panic stricken, and inhabitants of the poorer sections rushed into the streets shouting and screaming. About one-third of the guests of the Imperial Hotel, headquarters, for foreign visitors, fled.

Investigation showed that broken china and crockery was the only damage done.

TWO BOYS ASK DARROW TO TAKE HAND IN HEARING

LOEB TO TAKE STAND AND LEOPOLD TO EXAMINE HIM

LEOPOLD ALSO WISHES TO CROSS-EXAMINE STATE WITNESSES

(By United Press)
Criminal Courtroom, Chicago, Aug. 15.—Dick Loeb and Nathan Leopold have asked Clarence Darrow, their chief defense attorney, to be permitted to take a hand in their murder hearing before Justice John R. Caverly—Loeb to take the stand and Leopold to examine him and also to cross-examine state witnesses.

Loeb and Loeb are not satisfied fully with the manner in which Darrow and the Bachrach brothers are carrying on their defense. The youths favor a more vigorous policy.

Loeb said he wants to go on the stand to tell "the real story," a member of the defense revealed to the United Press.

"Of course, Loeb has already told all about the case and I doubt whether he has anything to add to his story," this person said.

Dr. James Whitney Hall, chief defense alienist, corroborated the story of the request of Nathan and Richard.

"Leopold is a lawyer of no mean ability," Dr. Hall said. "He is very eager to take a hand in the cross-examination."

As Darrow has definitely made up his mind against permitting either of the boys to go on the stand, there is little anticipation for a change of heart. Today's session of court convened at 10:30 a. m. Dr. Rollin T. Woodyatt, pathologist and specialist in endocrines, was put on the stand by the state at the opening session.

Did Not Want Her to Go Out of His Life

By CLARENCE PUGH

"THERE goes Doc Rogers up to the Wheeler place," remarked one gossip of Tarboro to another.

"I guess the Doc will be glad to have his bill paid," remarked the other. "That Miss Lucy's always ailing, ain't she?"

Dr. Frank Rogers was shown into the living room, where a pretty, dark-haired girl lay on the lounge.

"I can't imagine what is the matter with Lucy," her mother said. "She has been under the care of the best specialists for years. Can't you tell me frankly, doctor?"

"Yes, madam," answered Doctor Rogers sharply. "She is an imaginary invalid. I should be false to my duty if I did not tell you so. There is nothing at all the matter with her except boredom and distaste for mental and physical occupation."

"Why, how—how—dare you!" stammered the girl, sitting bolt upright upon the lounge.

"I seem to have dared successfully, for already you are looking better, Miss Wheeler," answered Doctor Rogers. "You need stimulus. Plenty of exercise, less eating, and something to occupy yourself with besides novels such as that one you have just been reading."

"The man's a perfect bore!" declared the girl, furiously.

"I am a physician, and I treat the sick, not the well," replied the young man.

"Well, I guess you won't have many more people to treat, sick or well," answered Mrs. Wheeler, significantly. "My husband has a few friends in Tarboro, and he will see to that."

Lucy Wheeler had never been crossed in her life before. What added to her anger was the fact that she believed the doctor had discovered her motive in sending for him. For she had been distinctly impressed by his appearance.

A woman scorned has been the same since immemorial time. All the energies of the Wheeler family were devoted to making life in Tarboro impossible for him, Cyrus Wheeler, hearing a garbled story to the effect that Rogers had insulted his daughter, vowed that he would drive the young man out of town.

Frank Rogers hung on that winter, hoping that his relentless enemies would have forgotten their grudge when the next summer came; but it was soon evident that they had returned bent upon giving him the coup de grace.

But with July came the crash of a dozen banks in the East, and Cyrus Wheeler's capital was wiped out in a day. He had just figured out that the sale of all his holdings and property, including the big house, would about liquidate his debts when apoplexy seized him.

Frank Rogers was passing at the foot of the hill when the terrified mother, who had been unable to locate any of the other physicians on the telephone, came rushing out and summoned him.

A brief examination was sufficient to show that Wheeler had no chance of recovery. Frank stayed with him all that night until the next morning, when he died. Then he remained to care for the prostrated mother.

Frank Rogers was the only friend the Wheelers had in those dark days, for malice breeds malice, and the sentiment of the town, which had been maliciously set against the young doctor, now automatically swung round against the Wheelers in their poverty.

"I don't know how to thank you for your conduct, doctor," faltered Lucy one day. She was looking very different now from in the old days.

"You know—we may not be able to pay you for a little while," she continued. "We don't know where we are going to get any money. The house has to be sold next week. Mother is going to live with her sister, but I—I suppose I shall have to try to find some employment."

Frank felt that he was more than repaid by the privilege of seeing Lucy every day—two or three times a day, for he was indefatigable in his attendance. People in Tarboro began to speak of it in their gossiping way.

And then a second catastrophe occurred, for one morning Mrs. Wheeler called her daughter and, when the girl arrived, tried to speak, could not speak, and died. She had been unable to survive the shock of her husband's death and bankruptcy.

A week later Lucy Wheeler stood in her traveling dress upon the steps of the house that she was never to enter again. At her foot was a suitcase.

"I have waited for you—to say goodbye," she said, when the doctor called. "Yes, I am going away. You have suffered a good deal from us Wheelers, but we are going out of your memory with my departure, and—won't you forgive me and try to think better of me?"

"But I don't want you to go," stammered the young man. "You have come to fill my life so much—won't you think about remaining permanently in it?" he continued.

Then each of them understood that it had not been really hatred. And, though she went away, she returned two months later as Frank Rogers' wife.

THE EVERYDAY COOKIE

Cookies are probably as appetizing and wholesome as any of the sweet foods prepared for children. For some reason in most homes, cookies, especially homemade cookies, are seldom served. Possibly because so many dainty varieties can now be bought so that it is easy to always have a supply on hand.

Freshly baked cookies from the home kitchen are sometimes more appreciated, and at the same time can be prepared in a very short time. Most every housewife keeps on her pantry shelves, nuts, raisins, jelly or coconut, and by using a plain cookie dough as a foundation make several varieties.

Now that the warm days are here and everyone likes to get out into the country for a ride or hike, carrying along a picnic lunch, nothing tastes better as a part of the spread than cookies. They are far more easily carried, as well as served, than cake, and are bound to be enjoyed by everyone.

If the lunch is left till the last minute on a hurriedly arranged party, they can be quickly mixed up and baked while the rest of the lunch is being prepared.

Especially in homes where there are children, the cookie jar seems almost essential. Not necessarily fancy cookies, nor the ones that require rich ingredients or much time in preparing, but plain, wholesome cookies, fruit or jelly filled, nut, date and raisin varieties.

Excellent for the children's lunch box, and to accompany ice cream or a chilled dessert, nothing is more attractive or appropriate.

For the evening, when one wishes to serve an iced drink, as an accompaniment, or with the afternoon "tea," assorted cookies or cakes are in favor.

A couple of fancy shaped cutters will always vary the old-fashioned cookie and make one believe they are getting an entirely new variety.

These recipes are inexpensive but make delicious cookies.

Young Farmer Surely Played in Hard Luck

"A young farmer had been somewhat too much of a general lover before he settled upon one sweetheart in particular, but this time he was truly attached to his Emily. It was about a month before the wedding, on a moonless night; and as he led a white heifer past the public house the door suddenly opened and a man stumbled out into the road, a little confused in his brain by too much beer. Now, this reveler, on returning home, endeavored, like many another husband, to placate his wife by offering her a scrap of gossip—he had just seen that young So-and-So walking out with somebody in white, and it wasn't the right girl, because she was at Doncaster."

"Next morning the wife, of course, told a neighbor, and the neighbor passed it on to the mother of the prospective bride, and, though the fiancé was able to explain everything, the girl thought, on the whole, she would prefer to have a young man who could lead anything home at night—plain or colored—without giving rise to talk."—From "What I Have Gathered," by J. E. Buckrose.

Lord Didn't See Much to Admire in Wordsworth

Wordsworth is held up for the derisive gaze of future generations in the journal of the fourth Lord Holland, published in London.

His lordship was a languid young man of fashion, who employed part of his leisure in the early days of the Nineteenth century in keeping a rather dull journal into which the unworldly public is at length permitted to gaze, says the Living Age.

One paragraph, scrawled on the evening of March 18, 1802, suffices, however, to redeem the journal, for the more important topic of food being safely disposed of, Lord Holland bestows three aristocratic sentences on Wordsworth:

"Dined at the B's. A very dull affair. We had, however, asperges, a rarity at this season. Lady B. informed me that these, as well as the pommes de terre, were sent direct from the estate. Over the wine talked with a young Mr. Wordsworth—a pompous, conceited kind of young man, and a poet. He belongs to the new school of ranting, canting, Germanizing vapourists. One has to meet very odd people sometimes."

For BETTER Soups and Chowders! KITCHEN BOUQUET

Made from fresh vegetables. Gives rich flavor, color and taste to all home cooking.

Onion Soup

1 tablespoon Kitchen Bouquet; 5 large onions; 1 tablespoon finely minced carrot; 3 tablespoons flour; 3 1/4 pints boiling water; salt and pepper to taste; 3 bouillon cubes; 1/4 cup thin cream. Peel and parboil onions for 3 minutes, drain and chop fine, place in saucepan with carrot and butter and simmer 5 minutes. Add flour, stir and add boiling water, salt and pepper and cook slowly a half hour. Strain, add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Add Kitchen Bouquet and cream. Place several pieces toast in tureen, pour over soup and serve at once.

Mock Terrapin Soup

Boil 1 1/4 pounds of calf's liver in salt water for half an hour; add small herbs; 6 grains of pepper; one teaspoonful cloves; a few slices of onion, carrot, etc. When the vegetables are done, take them out and mash by putting them through a colander. Make a Spanish sauce by frying bacon; put into the fat a little slice of onion, 6 peppers, two sprigs celery, one-half cup tomato and cook brown. Make a paste of one teaspoonful of salad oil, a yolk of hard boiled egg, dust of cayenne pepper, make into small balls; put these into Spanish sauce, then put the sauce into the soup. When they come to the top, skim them out. Add 1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet. Put in the tureen a slice of lemon, and pour in the soup, then cut the calf's liver into small bits and add it.

Savory Chowder

1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet; 1 qt. diced raw potatoes; 1/4 lb. chipped beef; 4 tablespoons butter; 1 cupful corn; 1 medium-sized onion, chopped fine; a small piece of red pepper; 1 1/4 cupfuls hot milk; 2 cupfuls hot water. Put butter, onion, meat and some of the potatoes in the saucepan and fry golden brown, then add hot water and the rest of the potatoes and pepper. Stew slowly till done, about 1 hour. If one uses green corn, score down the rows of kernels and scrape out the inside. Cook this in a little water separately, being careful not to scorch it. When the other mixture is done, add the hot milk, corn, Kitchen Bouquet and salt to taste. Let boil up once and serve hot with crackers.

Young Farmer Surely Played in Hard Luck

"A young farmer had been somewhat too much of a general lover before he settled upon one sweetheart in particular, but this time he was truly attached to his Emily. It was about a month before the wedding, on a moonless night; and as he led a white heifer past the public house the door suddenly opened and a man stumbled out into the road, a little confused in his brain by too much beer. Now, this reveler, on returning home, endeavored, like many another husband, to placate his wife by offering her a scrap of gossip—he had just seen that young So-and-So walking out with somebody in white, and it wasn't the right girl, because she was at Doncaster."

"Next morning the wife, of course, told a neighbor, and the neighbor passed it on to the mother of the prospective bride, and, though the fiancé was able to explain everything, the girl thought, on the whole, she would prefer to have a young man who could lead anything home at night—plain or colored—without giving rise to talk."

—From "What I Have Gathered," by J. E. Buckrose.

Lord Didn't See Much to Admire in Wordsworth

Wordsworth is held up for the decisive gaze of future generations in the journal of the fourth Lord Holland, published in London.

His lordship was a languid young man of fashion, who employed part of his leisure in the early days of the Nineteenth century in keeping a rather dull journal into which the unordly public is at length permitted to gaze, says the Living Age.

One paragraph, scrawled on the evening of March 18, 1802, suffices, however, to redeem the journal, for the more important topic of food being safely disposed of, Lord Holland bestows three aristocratic sentences on Wordsworth:

"Dined at the B's. A very dull affair. We had, however, asperges, a rarity at this season. Lady B. informed me that these, as well as the pommes de terre, were sent direct from the estate. Over the wine talked with a young Mr. Wordsworth—a pompous, conceited kind of young man, and a poet. He belongs to the new school of ranting, canting, Germanizing vapourists. One has to meet very odd people sometimes."

Onion Soup

1 tablespoon Kitchen Bouquet; 5 large onions; 1 tablespoon finely minced carrot; 3 tablespoons butter; 5 tablespoons flour; 3 1/2 pints boiling water; salt and pepper to taste; 3 bouillon cubes; 1/2 cup thin cream. Peel and parboil onions for 3 minutes, drain and chop fine, place in saucepan with carrot and butter and simmer 5 minutes. Add flour, stir and add boiling water, salt and pepper and cook slowly a half hour. Strain, add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Add Kitchen Bouquet and cream. Place several pieces toast in tureen, pour over soup and serve at once.

Mock Terrapin Soup

Boil 1 1/2 pounds of calf's liver in salt water for half an hour; add small herbs; 6 grains of pepper; one teaspoonful cloves; a few slices of onion, carrot, etc. When the vegetables are done, take them out and mash by putting them through a colander. Make a Spanish sauce by frying bacon; put into the fat a little slice of onion, 6 peppers, two sprigs celery, one-half cup tomato and cook brown. Make a paste of one teaspoonful of salad oil, a yolk of hard boiled egg, dust of cayenne pepper, make into small balls; put these into Spanish sauce, then put the sauce into the soup. When they come to the top, skim them out. Add 1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet. Put in the tureen a slice of lemon, and pour in the soup, then cut the calf's liver into small bits and add it.

Savory Chowder

1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet; 1 qt. diced raw potatoes; 3/4 lb. chipped beef; 4 tablespoons butter; 1 cupful corn; 1 medium-sized onion, chopped fine; a small piece of red pepper; 1 1/2 cupfuls hot milk; 2 cupfuls hot water. Put butter, onion, meat and some of the potatoes in the saucepan and fry golden brown, then add hot water and the rest of the potatoes and pepper. Stew slowly till done, about 1 hour. If one uses green corn, score down the rows of kernels and scrape out the inside. Cook this in a little water separately, being careful not to scorch it. When the other mixture is done, add the hot milk, corn, Kitchen Bouquet and salt to taste. Let boil up once and serve hot with crackers.

VACCINATION IS ENDORSED

WITH the threat of black smallpox before us, it behooves one to see about his vaccination record. We believe in vaccinating early and often, as the little discomfort occasioned by a vaccine point is nothing compared to facing a miserable disease like black smallpox unarmored.

A resolution endorsing vaccination as the most effective means of protecting individual and community health, and condemning opponents of vaccination, has been adopted by the Olmsted County (Minnesota) Medical society. The resolution was introduced by Dr. C. H. Mayo and seconded by Dr. W. J. Mayo. We believe, with the extensive practice they have had, in peace and war time, that the doctors are authorities in medicine and surgery. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, vaccination against smallpox and typhoid fever has been attacked by various pseudo-scientific societies and in some instances by the public press as being ineffective in the prevention of these diseases and dangerous to the health of those vaccinated, and

"Whereas, the experience of the medical department of the U. S. Army has proved conclusively that, in the case of typhoid fever, vaccination is a safe and dependable measure, responsible for the saving of thousands of lives during the world war, as is shown by a comparison of the typhoid rate during the Civil war before anti-typhoid vaccination was known, and the rate during the world war, indicating that, had the former rate prevailed, over 60,000 Americans would have died of the disease instead of the actual number, which was barely two hundred, and

"Whereas, general neglect of vaccination against smallpox is leading to a greatly increased prevalence, and in some places to its appearance in epidemic and in virulent form, and

"Whereas, there is positive proof as shown by the records of state and municipal health departments that vaccination with re-vaccination will prevent smallpox, and

"Whereas, vaccination properly performed and cared for carries no appreciable risk to the health of those vaccinated, as proved by the extensive experience of army surgeons who have treated hundreds of thousands of persons without a death, therefore,

"Be it resolved, that the members of the Olmsted County Medical society hereby publicly endorse vaccination as a most effective means for the protection of individuals and community health, and further that they go on record to the effect that the vaccination is a harmless procedure and conducive to public welfare."

ANOTHER DREAM BLASTED

ONE by one we are losing our dream theories, our phantasies, our idle speculations. The latest to go glimmering is the one referring to endless space. Toronto, Canada, is at present the scene of a gathering of scientists, and one of them, with the aid of a dozen or more adding machines of the type used to figure up German marks in the trillions, has at length computed the boundary lines of space.

If this keeps on, we'll soon have the fourth dimension chained in captivity and we'll all understand Einstein's theory of relativity. The world is certainly progressing. We are finding out more about our celestial neighbors, not the terrestrial ones. We will soon be hobnobbing with the populations of the stars and discussing weather conditions, crops, elections, bobbed hair and the Leopold-Loeb trial.

Flying will gradually increase in speed and power and newer heights will be attained. Ford will turn his attention to making flivver airplanes, having effectually filled up all the land highways of the world. The only place to find solitude will be at the base of some mine shaft, and then they say some of the copper shafts are down so deep that it gets uncomfortably warm.

With one's fancy checked by the computations of Dr. Ludvig Silberstein who claims to have staked out the boundaries of space, it's getting hard to extend one's imagination. Dr. Silberstein is none of your theoretical scientists. He works hard at a job as consulting mathematician for a Rochester, New York, firm and handles figures with the speed and abandon of a street car conductor making change.

One by one the ideas of the ages are being impinged. Some of our happiest delusions are being shattered as mercilessly as a sword fish jabbing a toy balloon. With the advances in the field of science, poetry and the arts will have to hitch up their trousers and buy a new belt.

KID MCCOY CLAIMS INSANITY

KID McCoy is in the hands of the authorities who are intent on fastening the crime of murder on him. A woman was found dead in her shop and McCoy claims she shot herself. In the first story it was given out McCoy would claim insanity if charged with murder, and in the second story he admits drinking in the afternoon and taking great big drinks, so that he guessed he did not know what he was doing.

McCoy, who once wore a champion pugilist's belt, attained a lot of notoriety in being married nine times and divorced as many times. We do wonder what kind of a philosophy McCoy will spring at his trial, following the example set by the Leopold-Loeb case.

TO ELIMINATE EXTREME FORMS OF DANCING

THE International Association of Dancing Masters does not favor any extreme forms of dancing. If their dictum is followed universally, it means the death knell for the "Wildcat Whirl," the "Tiger Twaddle," the "Camel Canter," the "Bunny Hug," which will be succeeded by the "Whisper Waltz" and the foxtrots of jerky movement will give way to ones in slow rhythm.

The attempted teaching of dancing by mail correspondence courses was frowned on by the professors. No one can be taught proficiently to dance by mail, said they.

Washington, Aug. 14.—No single question vital to the people of the United States was dodged by President Coolidge in the first great speech of the political campaign—his speech accepting the nomination as President offered him by the Republican party, and delivered in Washington the evening of August 14.

After outlining the sound foundation of the party system of government, the President said: "Party means political co-operation, not as an end in itself, but a means, an instrument of government. It founded upon a great moral principle and directed with scrupulous regard for its integrity, it cannot fail to sweep onward and upward, advancing always steadily and surely, a mighty constructive force, a glorious bearer of progress."

"That is what the Republican party always has been and is today. In full faith that such it will continue to be, deeply conscious of the high honor it confers and the responsibility it imposes, I accept its nomination for President of the United States."

"In the history of our country is recorded the public services rendered by our party for more than the three-score years. That is secure. I pass on to the recent past and the present."

Progress of Four Years.

The President pointed out the condition of the nation in March, 1921, when the Republicans resumed the reins of government after a lapse of eight years. Though more than two years had passed since the armistice, the nation was still technically in a state of war. No diplomatic relations existed with Turkey, Greece, Russia, Colombia or Mexico, the Far East situation caused "grave apprehensions." Because of the war, "a reckless extravagance had come to characterize the administration of public affairs and was all too prevalent in private life." The national debt had risen to the staggering total of $24,000,000,000, more than $7,000,000,000 of it in short-time obligations without provision for payment. Government bonds were below par. High war taxes burdened the people. Demobilization and liquidation were incomplete. Huge railroad accounts remained unsettled. Transportation was crippled. Unliquidated foreign debts amounted to $11,000,000,000. Banks were filled with frozen assets. Interest was high, capital scarce, and financial distress acute. About 5,000,000 were without employment. No adequate provision had been made for relieving disabled veterans and their dependents. The great powers continued to burden their peoples by building competitive armaments. An avalanche of war-worn people and cheapened merchandise impended upon America from foreign lands, the President pointed out.

Turning to the settlement of these vast problems since the start of the Republican regime, the President pointed out that treaties of world-wide importance have been ratified with Germany, Austria, Hungary, Colombia and Mexico, that 42 other treaties have met with the approval of the senate, while 6 still await action. Friendly intercourse with Greece and Turkey has been resumed. Peace and American rights have been assured in the Far East and the Pacific.

Turning to finance, the President called attention to the enactment of the budget system, and the resultant tremendous savings.

"For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921," President Coolidge said, "our expenditures were $5,538,000,000 and our surplus was $80,000,000. For the year just closed our expenditures were $3,407,000,000, and our surplus exceeded $500,000,000. This was a reduction in the annual cost of government of $2,041,000,000. The public debt now stands at about $21,250,000,000, which is a reduction in three years of about $2,750,000,000 and means an annual saving in interest of more than $120,000,000. The $7,000,000,000 of short-time obligations have all been quietly refunded or paid. The internal revenue taxes have been reduced twice, and many of them repealed, so that during the present fiscal year the tax receipts show a saving to the people of approximately $3,000,000 a day compared with 1921. One government bond has sold well over 105."

The President pointed out that more than 40 per cent of the debt due us from foreign nations has been liquidated, providing funds for liquidating about $13,000,000,000 of the national debt during a 62-year term.

"The finances of this nation have been managed with a genius and a success unmatched since the days of Hamilton," Mr. Coolidge declared.

"A great revival of industry took place, which is spreading to agriculture. Complaint of unemployment has ceased, wages have increased. Capital has become plentiful at a low rate of interest." Mr. Coolidge declared, "and the banks of our country, as a whole, show a high percentage of liquid assets."

The internal revenue taxes have been reduced twice, and many of them repealed, so that during the present fiscal year the tax receipts show a saving to the people of approximately $3,000,000 a day compared with 1921. One government bond has sold well over 105."

The President pointed out that more than 40 per cent of the debt due us from foreign nations has been liquidated, providing funds for liquidating about $13,000,000,000 of the national debt during a 62-year term.

"The finances of this nation have been managed with a genius and a success unmatched since the days of Hamilton," Mr. Coolidge declared.

"A great revival of industry took place, which is spreading to agriculture. Complaint of unemployment has ceased, wages have increased. Capital has become plentiful at a low rate of interest," Mr. Coolidge declared, "and the hearts of our country, as a whole, show a high percentage of liquid assets."

BIG FIGHT OF McCOY TO SAVE HIS BULL NECK

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CLAIMS
EVIDENCE TO CONVICT "KID"
OF KILLING WOMAN

McCOY DENIES MAKING ANY
CONFESSIONS AND CLAIMS
WOMAN KILLED HERSELF

(By United Press)
Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 15.—Norman Selby, the "Kid McCoy" of pugilistic fame, today was preparing for the biggest fight of his career, with his life as the prize.

Opposing him is District Attorney Asa P. Keyes, who declared he has sufficient evidence to convict the "Kid" of murdering "the only woman he ever loved," Mrs. Theresa Mors, beautiful dealer in antiques, who recently divorced her husband that she might marry McCoy.

McCoy's own sister, Mrs. Jennie Thompson, appeared before the grand jury here yesterday afternoon, and according to Keyes testified that her brother, Norman Selby, came to her early Wednesday morning and said:

"I think I killed Theresa. I have nothing more to live for."

But McCoy denies making any such confession and sticks to his story that Mrs. Mors committed suicide and died in his arms in the apartment where they had been living as man and wife under the assumed name of Mr. and Mrs. N.

Shields. If a formal charge of murder is placed against the former welterweight champion of the world, McCoy's defense will be insanity, says R. D. Knickerbocker, his attorney.

Today in his cell McCoy, known as one of the gamest fighters who ever entered the "squared ring," who was nine times married and as many times divorced, and whose 51 years of life have been filled with adventure, was a broken man and only able to mutter again and again, "I didn't kill her. I didn't. I didn't."

A chemist analysis of the skin tissues near the bullet wound which ended the life of McCoy's only love will be made today to determine whether or not suicide could have been possible.

As the test may require some time the coroner's inquest, scheduled for this afternoon, may be postponed.

SAM SCHAPP MAKES STATEMENT IN McCOY CASE

Samuel Schapp of New York City, one of the persons wounded by Norman Selby (Kid McCoy) when the former pugilist went on a "rampage" Wednesday following the death of Mrs. Theresa Mors, today admitted he "might have written" the endearing letters signed "Sam," found among the possessions of Mrs. Mors.

"She was a wonderful friend," Schapp said. "I would not have hesitated to call her darling." The letter in question was addressed to "Darling Theresa," and was signed "Sam." Police withheld its contents. Schapp came here from New York several days ago with his wife and spent most of Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Mors, he said.

"We talked most of the time about Mrs. Mors' breaking off with Mc-Coy," Schapp said. "Finally she agreed to break with him, but expressed fear that McCoy would kill her."

"Schapp's brief statement was considered the most important development in the case. There was apparently no motive for the killing and the belief that McCoy was guilty."

"Darling Theresa" letter was found yesterday. Efforts to trace its authorship were started quietly, culminating in Schapp's statement.

Schapp and his wife were two of three persons wounded by McCoy's shots in the fashionable antique shop after the discovery of Mrs. Mors' body. Heretofore there has been no apparent reason for the shooting of Schapp.

MAN TOLD MRS. SPENCER "TANLAC SAVED MY LIFE"

And Then She Tried Treatment And Found Relief.

"I am 69 years of age, but since taking Tanlac I have gained 9 lbs., and I don't feel over 40," are the splendid results Mrs. Sarah Spencer, 2169 22nd ave. S., Minneapolis, Minnesota, declares she has obtained from the celebrated treatment.

"For two years stomach trouble, constipation and biliousness kept me awfully run-down. I was almost a nervous wreck, got very little case or rest and was right on the verge of giving up.

"One day I asked a man, whose picture and testimonial I saw in the paper, if Tanlac really helped him. He said, 'Tanlac saved my life,' so I lost no time buying Tanlac and the results are, I have gained 9 lbs., and enjoy splendid health. I now know for myself that Tanlac is wonderful."

On What Meat?

Milwaukee Journal: Senator Caraway of Arkansas, as defender of senatorial dignity, adds another notch to his belt by punching the nose of an autoist who disputed the way with him. Not so long ago the Senator appeared in a Washington court in an action growing out of a fight on a street car with a clerk in the veterans' bureau. This second exploit puts him one ahead of his teammate, Robinson, who had an encounter recently while playing golf.

The two gentlemen from Arkansas, according to their statements, have been unfortunate. They just happened to meet with disagreeable people. And a senator is a senator. Why, bless your life, if he can't defend his toga, what's the use of having it?

Most of us settle our differences in other ways. Disputes are many and blows are few. We argue the matter out, shake hands and part. If we all adopted the method of the Arkansas senators this country would be one grand melee all the time. On what meat do these our solons feed? Should some allowance be made for these gentlemen who come from west of the Mississippi? Razor, back bacon, broiled channel cat and pecan bread perhaps constitute a menu that fires men to unusual heights of valor. There really ought to be an investigation.

Pola Negri and Robert Edson in a scene from the Paramount Picture "Men"

New Negri Film Due to be Shown Here Very Soon

"Men," Pola Negri's newest production for Paramount will be shown at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday. It is claimed that in this picture the popular continental star absolutely returns to the kind of role she had in "Passion" and her other European productions.

The picture, directed by the man who made "Peter the Great," Dimitri Buchowetzki, is a powerful story of France, lavishly produced. Pola has the role of a hotblooded young woman whom we see as a waitress in Marseilles. As the picture progresses, the star becomes one of the most sought-after women in the French capital.

"Men" is just that type of production the public of today wants.

And the supporting cast. Robert Frazer has the leading man's role. Then there's Robert Edson and Joseph Swickard, both well known on stage and screen, in important parts. Among others are Monti Collins, Gino Corrado and Edgar Norton.

"SECOND HAND LOVE"
WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION

Charles Jones as a happy, carefree Hobo! An actor and a role to conjure with. The story, written by Shannon Fife and pictured by William Fox, will be seen at the Lyceum Theatre tonight and Saturday.

Concerning the adventures of Angela, a beautiful girl who is deceived by her husband, deserts him to live alone in a small village called Hamtown, the story is vibrant with romance, pathos and humor.

The seemingly insurmountable obstacles to happiness, raised by three execrable rogues, bring the young woman to despair until Happy Andy turns up. Then the story of his wit, and their outwitting is thrilling and delightful in a huge degree.

Jackie Coogan at Lyceum Sunday in "Little Robinson Crusoe"

A raft of fun is in store for patrons of the Lyceum Sunday. Jackie Coogan is coming in his very latest Joy picture, "Little Robinson Crusoe." Jackie is shipwrecked on a lonely island and finds himself midst hundreds of hungry savages. You'll love it. You'll eat up the laughs and thrills, and you can be sure of it, for this beloved Junior star has never appeared in a more delightful picture.

ing blame to someone else and assuming innocence is so much easier.

It is the second type of coward—the physical—which is portrayed in "Code of the Sea," a Victor Fleming Paramount production, in which Miss Logan is featured with Rod La Rocque.

This is the story of a young man with a yellow streak, a coward just as his father was before him.

"Code of the Sea" will be shown at the New Park last time tonight.

The story was written for Paramount production by Bryon Morgan and is considered one of the most powerful ever transferred to film.

COOLIDGE ACCEPTS
WITH CONFIDENCE

Speaking of the generous laws passed to relieve disabled veterans, the President said that more than 71,000 have been rehabilitated, 38,000 of whom are earning more than they did before the war. Compensation is being paid at the rate of about $100,000,000 a year, soon to be increased by $30,000,000 more, $40,000,000 have been provided for hospital facilities, which are open to veterans of all American wars.

"No government," the President declared, "ever provided so generously for those disabled by service in time of war."

Touching the exclusion law and restricted immigration generally, the President said: "Restricted immigration is not an offensive but a purely defensive action. It is not adopted in criticism of others in the slightest degree, but solely for the purpose of protecting ourselves. We cast no aspersions on any race or creed, but we must remember that every object of our institutions of society and government will fall unless America be kept American."

Next the President dealt with the tariff. "By means of a protective tariff," he said, "we have saved American agriculture, labor, and industry from the menace of having their great home market destroyed through the dumping upon it of a flood of foreign products. Under this wise policy we saw an economic revival, and our people as a whole, in marked distinction from the sufferers from the financial distress and depression of other lands, have come into an era of prosperity and plenty. As a source of revenue the tariff surpassed all expectations in producing an annual return of the unprecedented sum of about $550,000,000. A fiscal policy which places a large and much needed revenue in the public treasury, while stimulating business to a condition of abounding prosperity, defends itself against any criticism. Its merits are demonstrated by its results. We have protected our own inhabitants from the economic disaster of an invasion of too many foreign people or too much foreign merchandise."

The Washington Conference.

Next the acceptance speech dealt with the Washington conference whereby an end was put to the ruinous competitive naval armaments of world powers, the importance of which has never been fully realized by the people in general, Mr. Coolidge declared.

Turning to the "honest government" issue, President Coolidge pointed out bluntly that in all his studies of political history he could not recall an administration which was desirous of a dishonest government that, to check extravagance, introduced a budget system, cut taxes, purged pay rolls, made enormous reductions in the public debt and laid firmer foundations for the peace of the world.

President Coolidge declared he favored the system of private American enterprise and was opposed to the extension of government ownership and control; that he believed in economy in public expenditures and the practical application of the theory; that he believed in tax reduction and tax reform; that he favored protection.

Favors Permanent Court.

"I favor the permanent court and further limitation of armaments," the President said. "I am opposed to aggressive war. I shall avoid involving ourselves in the political controversies of Europe, but I shall do what I can to encourage American citizens and resources to assist in restoring Europe, with the sympathetic support of our government. I want agriculture and industry on a sound basis of prosperity and equality. I shall continue to strive for the economic, moral and spiritual welfare of my country. American citizens will decide in the coming election whether these principles shall have their approval and support."

"The domestic affairs of our country appear to me to be by far the chief concern. From this source comes our strength. The home market consumes nearly all our production. Within our own boundaries will be determined to a very large degree the economic welfare and the moral worth of the American people. These are plain facts, but there are others equally plain."

Reaffirming his opposition to entrance into the League of Nations as a surrender of independence, the President favored becoming a member of the permanent court of international justice, "as peace means fundamentally a reign of law." Entrance into the so-called world court "would do much to indicate our determination to restrain the rule of force and solidify and sustain the rule of reason among nations," Mr. Coolidge said.

America Helps Europe.

The President reviewed the difficulties of Europe and the unavailing efforts to find a way out until the American plan, proposed in 1922, was finally adopted, under which the reparations commission appointed a committee of experts, whose three American members included Gen. Charles G. Dawes, the President's running mate on the Republican ticket. The appointment of General Dawes as chairman and the report which has met world-wide approbation were pointed out.

When the reparations plan is in operation, the President said, he would consider it time to approach the great powers with the proposal for another conference to limit armaments still further and devise plans for the codification of international law.

"I trust that never again will the women of this nation be called on to sacrifice their loved ones to the terrible scourge of war," President Coolidge said.

Touching Latin America the President said that we have constantly striven to come to more complete understandings with those nations. He recited the help given Mexico to avert domestic violence there, and the indication of a policy of making it worth while for a government to conduct itself so as to merit recognition. He pointed to the written agreement with Mexico to negotiate a treaty of amity and commerce such as has not been in existence since 1881.

Equal Opportunities for All.

Of discrimination of all kinds, President Coolidge said: "This is one country; we are one people united by common interests. There should be no favorites and no outsiders; no race or religious prejudices in the government. America opposes special privilege for anybody, and favors equal opportunity for everybody. It has adopted these conclusions because they are the logical conclusions of our ideals of freedom. Moreover, we believe they contribute to our material welfare. We oppose the artificial supports of privilege and monopoly because they are both unjust and uneconomic. They are not right. They do not work."

The Farm Situation.

Reviewing the situation of the farmer, the President said that one of the first thoughts in 1921 was for the relief and revival of agriculture as a fundamental industry, and touched upon the credits of between three and four hundred million dollars extended through the War Finance corporation, an additional $50,000,000 provided for the relief of the cattle industry, and the formation of a $10,000,000 corporation in the spring which, it was estimated, can furnish $100,000,000 for diversification and relief in the Northwest. He told of the activities of the intermediate credit banks, directly and indirectly assisting 500,000 farmers.

The President commented on the present upward of prices for agricultural products.

"The government rendered a great deal of assistance," he said, "and private enterprise co-operated, but the fundamental remedy was provided, as it always must be provided, not so much through the enactment of legislative laws as through the working out of economic laws. Because the farmers have thoroughly realized this, they have on the whole opposed price fixing by legislation. While maintaining that sound position, they have seen a partial relief come in a natural way, as it was bound to come.

"We now need in agriculture more organization, co-operation, and diversification. The farmer should have the benefit of legislation providing for flood control and development of inland waterways, better navigation east and south from the Great Lakes, reclamation, and especially relief for those who cannot meet their payments on irrigation projects. But the main problem is marketing. Co-operative effort, reorganization of the freight-rate structure, good business, and good wages in manufacturing, and the settlement of European affairs will all help to provide better market conditions.

"The Republican platform recognizes that agriculture should be on a basis of economic equality with other industries. This is easy to say, but the farmers themselves and their advisers have never been able to agree on a plan to provide it by law. Now that nature and economic law have given some temporary relief, I propose, therefore, to appoint a committee to investigate and report measures to the congress in December that may help secure this result which we all desire. I want profitable agriculture established permanently. I want to see the dollar of the farmer always purchase as much as any other dollar.

"Under the policy of protection and restrictive immigration," he asserted, "no deflation of wages has occurred. While the cost of living has gone down, wages have advanced. The 12-hour day and the seven-day week have practically been abolished. The uninterrupted operation of public utilities with mutually satisfactory and legally established methods of adjusting labor questions have been sought. Collective bargaining and voluntary arbitration have been encouraged. Republican rule has raised the wage earner to a higher standard than he ever occupied before anywhere in the world."

Reduction of Expenses.

President Coolidge then pointed out that the people of the country, because of the war have had to recreate nearly one-fifth of our national resources. We can make up the loss, he said, only by saving part of what we produce each day.

"It is for that reason," he continued, "that the present administration has made every possible effort to cut down the expenses of government. The expenses of the government reach everybody. Taxes take from everyone a part of his earnings, and force everyone to work for a certain part of his time for the government."

"When we come to realize that the yearly expenses of all the governments in this country have reached the stupendous sum of about $7,500,000,000, we get some idea of what this means. Of this amount about $3,500,000,000 is needed by the national government, and the remainder by local governments. Such a sum is difficult to comprehend. It represents all the pay of 5,000,000 wage earners receiving $5 a day, working 300 days in the year. If the government should add on $100,000,000 of expense, it would represent four days more work of these wage earners. These are some of the reasons why I want to cut down public expense."

"Because of my belief in these principles, I favor economy that the taxes of everybody may be reduced. Much has already been done. The bill which I signed will save the people about $1,000,000 each day. I want further tax reduction and more tax reform."

The raising of the revenue required to conduct our government is intimately connected with our economic welfare. If it is done by wise and just laws, the burden will be most easily borne. But if the method of taxation is not sound disaster will follow, reaching even to financial panic. Our first thought should be to maintain unimpaired the activity of agriculture and industry. That tax is theoretically best which interferes least with business.

COOLIDGE ACCEPTS

Speaking of the generous laws passed to relieve disabled veterans, the President said that more than 71,000 have been rehabilitated, 38,000 of whom are earning more than they did before the war. Compensation is being paid at the rate of about $100,000,000 a year, soon to be increased by $30,000,000 more, $40,000,000 have been provided for hospital facilities, which are open to veterans of all American wars.

"No government," the President declared, "ever provided so generously for those disabled by service in time of war."

Touching the exclusion law and restricted immigration generally, the President said: "Restricted immigration is not an offensive but a purely defensive action. It is not adopted in criticism of others in the slightest degree, but solely for the purpose of protecting ourselves. We cast no aspersions on any race or creed, but we must remember that every object of our institutions of society and government will fall unless America be kept American."

Next the President dealt with the tariff. "By means of a protective tariff," he said, "we have saved American agriculture, labor, and industry from the menace of having their great home market destroyed through the dumping upon it of a flood of foreign products. Under this wise policy we saw an economic revival, and our people as a whole, in marked distinction from the sufferers from the financial distress and depression of other lands, have come into an era of prosperity and plenty. As a source of revenue the tariff surpassed all expectations in producing an annual return of the unprecedented sum of about $550,000,000. A fiscal policy which places a large and much needed revenue in the public treasury, while stimulating business to a condition of abounding prosperity, defends itself against any criticism. Its merits are demonstrated by its results. We have protected our own inhabitants from the economic disaster of an invasion of too many foreign people or too much foreign merchandise."

The Washington Conference.

Next the acceptance speech dealt with the Washington conference whereby an end was put to the ruinous competitive naval armaments of world powers, the importance of which has never been fully realized by the people in general, Mr. Coolidge declared.

Turning to the "honest government" issue, President Coolidge pointed out bluntly that in all his studies of political history he could not recall an administration which was desirous of a dishonest government that, to check extravagance, introduced a budget system, cut taxes, purged pay rolls, made enormous reductions in the public debt and laid firmer foundations for the peace of the world.

President Coolidge declared he favored the system of private American enterprise and was opposed to the extension of government ownership and control; that he believed in economy in public expenditures and the practical application of the theory; that he believed in tax reduction and tax reform; that he favored protection.

Favors Permanent Court.

"I favor the permanent court and further limitation of armaments," the President said. "I am opposed to aggressive war. I shall avoid involving ourselves in the political controversies of Europe, but I shall do what I can to encourage American citizens and resources to assist in restoring Europe, with the sympathetic support of our government. I want agriculture and industry on a sound basis of prosperity and equality. I shall continue to strive for the economic, moral and spiritual welfare of my country. American citizens will decide in the coming election whether these principles shall have their approval and support."

"The domestic affairs of our country appear to me to be by far the chief concern. From this source comes our strength. The home market consumes nearly all our production. Within our own boundaries will be determined to a very large degree the economic welfare and the moral worth of the American people. These are plain facts, but there are others equally plain."

Reaffirming his opposition to entrance into the League of Nations as a surrender of independence, the President favored becoming a member of the permanent Court of International Justice, "as peace means fundamentally a reign of law." Entrance into the so-called World court "would do much to indicate our determination to restrain the rule of force and solidity and sustain the rule of reason among nations," Mr. Coolidge said.

America Helps Europe.

The President reviewed the difficulties of Europe and the unavailing efforts to find a way out until the American plan, proposed in 1922, was finally adopted, under which the reparations commission appointed a committee of experts, whose three American members included Gen. Charles G. Dawes, the President's running mate on the Republican ticket. The appointment of General Dawes as chairman and the report which has met world-wide approbation were pointed out.

When the reparations plan is in operation, the President said, he would consider it time to approach the great powers with the proposal for another conference to limit armaments still further and devise plans for the codification of international law.

"I trust that never again will the women of this nation be called on to service their loved ones to the terrible scourge of war," President Coolidge said.

Touching Latin America the President said that we have constantly striven to come to more complete understandings with those nations. He recited the help given Mexico to avert domestic violence there, and the indication of a policy of making it worth while for a government to conduct itself so as to merit recognition. He pointed to the written agreement with Mexico to negotiate a treaty of amity and commerce such as has not been in existence since 1881.

Equal Opportunities for All.

Of discrimination of all kinds, President Coolidge said: "This is one country; we are one people united by common interests. There should be no favorites and no outcasts; no race or religious prejudices in the government. America opposes special privilege for anybody, and favors equal opportunity for everybody. It has adopted those conclusions because they are the logical conclusions of our ideals of freedom. Moreover, we believe they contribute to our material welfare. We oppose the artificial supports of privilege and monopoly because they are both unjust and uneconomic. They are not right. They do not work."

The Farm Situation.

Reviewing the situation of the farmer, the President said that one of the first thoughts in 1921 was for the relief and revival of agriculture as a fundamental industry, and touched upon the credits of between three and four hundred million dollars extended through the War Finance corporation, an additional $50,000,000 provided for the relief of the cattle industry, and the formation of a $10,000,000 corporation in the spring which, it was estimated, can furnish $100,000,000 for diversification and relief in the Northwest. ## FARMERS APPLY FOR BOARD LOANS

Crow Wing County Agricultural Credit Board Approves Applications

11 LOANS ARE CONSIDERED

Loans Made to Farmers For the Purpose of Purchasing Necessary Livestock

The Crow Wing County Agricultural Credit Board has just approved and sent into the Agricultural Credit Corporation, at Minneapolis, its first applications for loans for local farmers.

This county credit board, composed of August Nelson, president, County Agent E. G. Roth, secretary, S. R. Adair, A. G. Trommald and Ed. Boppel, met on Wednesday and approved eleven loans from applications of farmers in Crow Wing county, ranging from $75 to $700. The maximum that can be borrowed is one thousand dollars.

These loans are made to the farmers for the purpose of purchasing livestock, the only security being necessary is that afforded by the stock purchased and its increase.

The capital for these loans was secured by business men of New York, Chicago and other large cities, who raised ten million dollars. The government rediscounted this amount ten to one, making available one hundred million dollars.

One-tenth of this amount is for loaning to farmers for the buying of livestock, and the other ninety per cent is for the relief of banks that are hard pressed in farming areas.

Money loaned to farmers for the purchase of hogs, sheep and poultry is returnable in two years. Money loaned on dairy and beef cattle is for a four-year period.

The local committee has no authority to loan money. It merely goes over the applications of the farmers and sends in to the Minneapolis corporation those applications which it approves. The corporation takes final action in loaning the money, and will, if the applicant desires, buy the livestock for him.

MRS. E. R. MURPHY HAS PASSED AWAY

Former Resident of Brainerd Died Suddenly Wednesday at Home of Son, Ed. R. Murphy

IN LIVINGSTON, MONTANA

She Was a Sister of A. J. Halsted of Brainerd and Mrs. H. E. Brooks of Seattle

Mrs. Emma R. Murphy, former resident of Brainerd, passed away suddenly on Wednesday morning at the home of her son, Ed. R. Murphy, in Livingston, Montana, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Murphy was seventy-five years old, and was born at Bridgeport, Ohio. At the age of eighteen years she was married in Bridgeport to Frank H. Murphy, of Montrose, Pennsylvania, and went there with her husband to make her home. In 1870 they moved to Missouri where they resided for many years.

Mr. Murphy, who was in the insurance business, died at their home in Macon, Missouri about twenty-five years ago, and a few years later Mrs. Murphy and her son Edward and family, came to Brainerd to live. About five years ago the family removed to Livingston, where Mr. Murphy has since held the position as chief clerk in the office of the Northern Pacific storekeeper.

Less than three weeks ago Mrs. Murphy returned to Livingston after a pleasant visit of three months with Brainerd relatives. She had been in very poor health during the winter and spring, but returned to her home greatly improved in every way. The news of her death was a great shock to Brainerd friends.

Mrs. Murphy was a sister of A. J. Halsted of Brainerd and Mrs. H. E. Brooks of Seattle, Washington, formerly of Brainerd. She leaves the following children: George, of Kansas City, Mo.; William, of St. Louis, Ed. R., of Livingston, Mont.; Mrs. Harry M. George and Mrs. P. J. Casey, of Brainerd. She has nineteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

The remains were taken to the old home of the deceased at Macon, Missouri for interment beside her husband.

The news of Mrs. Murphy's death will come as a great shock to her many friends in Brainerd, who join in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

ONE-MAN DIRIGIBLE NEW ARMY CREATION

Dayton, O., Aug. 15.—The army air service announces a new creation—the baby blimp, a one-man dirigible.

The craft is a mere pigmy compared with present types. It is under construction at Hammondsport, N. Y., and will be ready to fly in about five months, according to officials of McCook Field here, where the ship was designed.

In general appearance the one-man dirigible will resemble a free balloon turned on its side. Its nose is blunter than larger dirigibles and Zeppelins and the bag is 30 feet long. Filled with 23,000 cubic feet of hydrogen it will stand 50 feet high.

The ship was designed by Matt Corbett, McCook Field civilian engineer, who produced the famous "jumping balloon."

Army officials expect the baby blimp to serve both military and commercial purposes. It will be used at first by the air service as training equipment.

The power plant is a two-cylinder opposed type aero engine. It will consume about one gallon of gasoline an hour, which will permit the ship to remain aloft five hours at a time.

The baby blimp, as designed, is about 22 times smaller than the Shenandoah, the largest of lighter-than-air craft. The Shenandoah is 660 feet long and has a gas capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet.

Special controls, designed by Corbett, make it possible for one man to operate the smaller ships by manipulating two rudders and two elevators.

On deflation, the mechanical parts may be removed and packed away.

SCHOOL STARTS IN TWO WEEKS MORE

All Departments of City Schools to Open on Tuesday, September 2nd

YEAR'S PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Buildings and Equipment Are Being Put in First Class Shape by Board

Only two weeks of the summer vacation left, then Brainerd school children will again take up their three R's. All departments of the city schools are to open on Tuesday, September 2nd, and prospects for a good year are very bright, according to board officials, who are having buildings and equipment put in first-class shape for the new term.

With the largest attendance expected that the local schools have ever known, the board has a knotty problem on its hands again this year in finding accommodations for the students, but there will be room for all on the opening day, it is said.

One additional room has been fitted up in the Whittier building, and this school has been given a thorough renovating from top to bottom. A feature that will be much appreciated is the auditorium that has been provided in this and the Lincoln building.

High school courses this year will be substantially the same as those offered last season, and include in addition to the regular high school subjects, manual training, domestic science, commercial and normal training.

With a few exceptions, the teachers employed last year have been elected again. Several additional instructors have been employed and it is felt that the teaching staff is an exceptionally strong one throughout the entire school system.

With only two weeks left before school starts, Brainerd youngsters are advised to make the most of this time, and then be ready to settle down to plenty of hard study and the numerous activities that are always connected with the school year.

It is hoped to give athletics the attention which this important branch of school work deserves. It is expected to place a foot ball and a basket ball team in the field. Athletics for the girls will also be emphasized.

SPEEDER DEFIES CYCLE COPPER; YIELDS TO GUN

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—Arthur Bryan, Red Wing, wasn't impressed with the St. Paul police force when they tried to arrest him for speeding and started trading wallops with two of its representatives.

"Come on," he told Motorcycle Patrolman Ed Crane and Roundsman Jim Lambert, "I've taken saps away from better cops than you two."

They "came on." Bryan finally broke away and Crane had to draw his gun to stop him. Then reinforcements arrived from Rondo station and Bryan was taken back. He was sent to Ancker hospital for observation.

The fight started after the two policemen had pursued Bryan for a mile down University ave. after he drove around the wrong side of a streetcar yesterday afternoon. They finally stopped him at University ave. and Chatsworth st.

They were married in St. Paul Oct. 25, 1917, and were divorced in Washington county, Feb. 26, 1923. They remarried at Cambridge, Minn., Aug. 26, 1923, six months after the divorce.

Both had been married before they first were wedded, and Mrs. Packard has two children by the former marriage and Mr. Packard has five.

Mr. Packard charges his wife threw dishes at him and slapped him.

Parents of Girls Enjoyed an Interesting Program of Scout Lore, Followed by Refreshments

The Girl Scout camp at "Pug-Ona-Ge-Shig" on North Long lake, closed on Thursday, much to the disappointment of all, for the outing was a decided success from every angle.

Wednesday was "Mothers Day" at the camp, and the parents of the girls enjoyed an interesting program of Scout lore, followed by a tour of the camp and the serving of refreshments.

The last swim at camp was greatly enjoyed. Miss Petrabor, Kay and Eleanor Nolan and Emma Jean Clarkson swam across the lake, to the great admiration of all the spectators.

A launch trip on Gull lake was promised for the final day at camp, but on account of the bad weather had to be postponed. The girls were much disappointed, especially since lunch had been prepared.

A gay and noisy ride home in a truck, kindly furnished by the Hayes-Lucas Lumber Company, brought the festivities to a close. The Scouts returned to the city looking forward to a still better camp next year.

Troops from Brainerd and Barrows enjoyed the outing under the supervision of Miss Alice Johnstone and Miss Thora Ingebritson. It is hoped that there will be more troops organized before next season's outing.

FARMERS APPLY FOR BOARD LOANS

Crow Wing County Agricultural Credit Board Approves Applications

11 LOANS ARE CONSIDERED

Loans Made to Farmers For the Purpose of Purchasing Necessary Livestock

The Crow Wing County Agricultural Credit Board has just approved and sent into the Agricultural Credit Corporation, at Minneapolis, its first applications for loans for local farmers.

This county credit board, composed of August Nelson, president, County Agent E. G. Roth, secretary, S. R. Adair, A. G. Trommald and Ed. Boppel, met on Wednesday and approved eleven loans from applications of farmers in Crow Wing county, ranging from $75 to $700. The maximum that can be borrowed is one thousand dollars.

These loans are made to the farmers for the purpose of purchasing livestock, the only security being necessary is that afforded by the stock purchased and its increase.

The capital for these loans was secured by business men of New York, Chicago and other large cities, who raised ten million dollars. The government rediscounted this amount ten to one, making available one hundred million dollars.

One-tenth of this amount is for loaning to farmers for the buying of livestock, and the other ninety per cent is for the relief of banks that are hard pressed in farming areas.

Money loaned to farmers for the purchase of hogs, sheep and poultry is returnable in two years. Money loaned on dairy and beef cattle is for a four-year period.

The local committee has no authority to loan money. It merely goes over the applications of the farmers and sends in to the Minneapolis corporation those applications which it approves. The corporation takes final action in loaning the money, and will, if the applicant desires, buy the livestock for him.

MRS. E. R. MURPHY HAS PASSED AWAY

Former Resident of Brainerd Died Suddenly Wednesday at Home of Son, Ed. R. Murphy

IN LIVINGSTON, MONTANA

She Was a Sister of A. J. Halsted of Brainerd and Mrs. H. E. Brooks of Seattle

Mrs. Emma R. Murphy, former resident of Brainerd, passed away suddenly on Wednesday morning at the home of her son, Ed. R. Murphy, in Livingston, Montana, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Murphy was seventy-five years old, and was born at Bridgeport, Ohio. At the age of eighteen years she was married in Bridgeport to Frank H. Murphy, of Montrose, Pennsylvania, and went there with her husband to make her home. In 1870 they moved to Missouri where they resided for many years.

Mr. Murphy, who was in the insurance business, died at their home in Macon, Missouri about twenty-five years ago, and a few years later Mrs. Murphy and her son Edward and family, came to Brainerd to live. About five years ago the family removed to Livingston, where Mr. Murphy has since held the position as chief clerk in the office of the Northern Pacific storekeeper.

Less than three weeks ago Mrs. Murphy returned to Livingston after a pleasant visit of three months with Brainerd relatives. She had been in very poor health during the winter and spring, but returned to her home greatly improved in every way. The news of her death was a great shock to Brainerd friends.

Mrs. Murphy was a sister of A. J. Halsted of Brainerd and Mrs. H. E. Brooks of Seattle, Washington, formerly of Brainerd. She leaves the following children: George, of Kansas City, Mo., William, of St. Louis, Ed. R., of Livingston, Mont., Mrs. Harry M. George and Mrs. P. J. Casey, of Brainerd. She has nineteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren. The remains were taken to the old home of the deceased at Macon, Missouri for interment beside her husband.

The news of Mrs. Murphy's death will come as a great shock to her many friends in Brainerd, who join in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

ONE-MAN DIRIGIBLE NEW ARMY CREATION

Dayton, O., Aug. 15.—The army air service announces a new creation—the baby blimp, a one-man dirigible.

The craft is a mere pigmy compared with present types. It is under construction at Hammondsport, N. Y., and will be ready to fly in about five months, according to officials of McCook Field here, where the ship was designed.

In general appearance the one-man dirigible will resemble a free balloon turned on its side. Its nose is blunter than larger dirigibles and Zeppelins and the bag is 30 feet long. Filled with 23,000 cubic feet of hydrogen it will stand 50 feet high.

The ship was designed by Matt Corbett, McCook Field civilian engineer, who produced the famous "jumping balloon."

Army officials expect the baby blimp to serve both military and commercial purposes. It will be used at first by the air service as training equipment.

The power plant is a two-cylinder opposed type aero engine. It will consume about one gallon of gasoline an hour, which will permit the ship to remain aloft five hours at a time.

The baby blimp, as designed, is about 22 times smaller than the Shenandoah, the largest of lighter-than-air craft. The Shenandoah is 680 feet long and has a gas capacity of 2,000,000 cubic feet.

Special controls, designed by Corbett, make it possible for one man to operate the smaller ships by manipulating two rudders and two elevators.

On deflation, the mechanical parts may be removed and packed away.

SCHOOL STARTS IN TWO WEEKS MORE

All Departments of City Schools to Open on Tuesday, September 2nd

YEAR'S PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Buildings and Equipment Are Being Put in First Class Shape by Board

Only two weeks of the summer vacation left, then Brainerd school children will again take up their three R's. All departments of the city schools are to open on Tuesday, September 2nd, and prospects for a good year are very bright, according to board officials, who are having buildings and equipment put in first-class shape for the new term.

With the largest attendance expected that the local schools have ever known, the board has a knotty problem on its hands again this year in finding accommodations for the students, but there will be room for all on the opening day, it is said.

One additional room has been fitted up in the Whittier building, and this school has been given a thorough renovating from top to bottom. A feature that will be much appreciated is the auditorium that has been provided in this and the Lincoln building.

High school courses this year will be substantially the same as those offered last season, and include in addition to the regular high school subjects, manual training, domestic science, commercial and normal training.

With a few exceptions, the teachers employed last year have been elected again. Several additional instructors have been employed and it is felt that the teaching staff is an exceptionally strong one throughout the entire school system.

With only two weeks left before school starts, Brainerd youngsters are advised to make the most of this time, and then be ready to settle down to plenty of hard study and the numerous activities that are always connected with the school year.

It is hoped to give athletics the attention which this important branch of school work deserves. It is expected to place a foot ball and a basket ball team in the field. Athletics for the girls will also be emphasized.

SPEEDER DEFIES CYCLE COPPERS; YIELDS TO GUN

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—Arthur Bryan, Red Wing, wasn't impressed with the St. Paul police force when they tried to arrest him for speeding and started trading wallops with two of its representatives.

"Come on," he told Motorcycle Patrolman Ed Crane and Roundsman Jim Lambert, "I've taken saps away from better cops than you two."

They "came on." Bryan finally broke away and Crane had to draw his gun to stop him. Then reinforcements arrived from Rondo station and Bryan was taken back. He was sent to Ancker hospital for observation.

The fight started after the two policemen had pursued Bryan for a mile down University ave. after he drove around the wrong side of a streetcar yesterday afternoon. They finally stopped him at University ave. and Chatsworth st.

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—A second trial at marriage with his wife apparently has proved unsuccessful for Ernest C. Packard, 41, who filed suit for divorce from Louise C. E. Packard, 35, for the second time.

They were married in St. Paul Oct. 25, 1917, and were divorced in Washington county, Feb. 26, 1923. They remarried at Cambridge, Minn., Aug. 26, 1923, six months after the divorce.

MEN CHARGED WITH SMUGGLING IRISH GIRLS STILL HELD

St. Paul, Aug. 15.—Whether criminal charges will be brought against the two men charged with smuggling two Irish girls into the United States was to be determined at a conference in St. Paul this afternoon.

Immigration Inspector Nyquist who made the arrests in St. Paul Tuesday will confer with Leland Scott, assistant United States attorney.

The two men under arrest are Thomas Joyce and Thomas Barrett. They are charged with having gone to the Canadian border and brought Barbara and Mary Conroy to St. Paul. The girls are cousins of Joyce and sisters of Mack Conroy, 606 Glencoe st., at whose home they were arrested.

The Irish immigration quota for this year was exhausted when the girls tried to enter through Ellis Island earlier in the year.

WALKER PICKED TO BEAT LEONARD

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 15.—Fight fans figure that for once Benny Leonard has bitten off more than he can chew, in contracting to fight Mickey Walker for the welterweight crown on August 20.

Leonard has been absent from the ring for 11 months, and the conditions under which he signed to meet the Elizabeth, N. J., boy required that neither engage in any tune-up bouts.

This lack of fighting is going to tell against Benneh, while Walker has had nine bouts in the past year. The lightweight champion signed for a fight with Pal Moran in Cleveland on August 11, but had to call it off, under the agreement.

Youth, superior stamina and strength, and ability to take a beating also are in Walker's favor.

Keeness of eye, speed of hand and foot, and muscular co-ordination have always been Leonard's long suits, but he cannot hope to keep them to the point of perfection unless he has an occasional fight. And all Benny's fighting recently has been beneath the Kleigs of filmdom.

Last September, the lightweight champ went eight easy rounds with Johnny Mendelsohn of Philadelphia, and has done a little sparring at his camp at Tannersville, N. Y.

Mickey Walker has proven he can take as hard a punching as Leonard has to offer, and come back for more. The welter king took some tough knocks from Morrie Schlaifer, as hard a hitter as there is in the welter ranks, and finally flattened the Omaha boy.

Like Jack Dempsey, Walker is a disciple of the outdoors. Leonard has been keeping late hours, to say the least.

Walker hits harder, but lets them go with much less accuracy. Benny has it all over the New Jersey boy when it comes to deadly punching on the mark.

The fight should be a great one, from the box office point of view, because both men have their following, and their share of popularity, Mickey's making up in genuineness of feeling for what Benny has in point of numbers.

It would not be surprising to see Leonard out-box Walker for the 15 rounds, with neither man seriously hurt. Local fight fans think differently. They pick Mickey to win.

HELEN WILLS IS FAVORED TO KEEP TENNIS TITLE

CHAMPION IS 10 TO 1 A RULING FAVORITE WITH FANS

MOLLA, IT IS THOUGHT, WILL BE FINALIST IN TOURNAMENT

By HENRY L. FARRELL

Forest Hills, New York, Aug. 15.—"She's getting so good she'll have to be entered in the men's division before long," a prominent tennis official said of Miss Helen Wills, the national and Olympic champion, at the West Side Tennis club today.

The young Californian has the field so outclassed that she is a 10 to 1 shot to retain her championship title and if she gets by this year, there will be no way to stop her for years. It looks as if Mrs. Molla Mallory, who lost the championship last year, will be a finalist. The former champion hardly can be expected to do better than she did against the California girl at Forest Hills and in Paris because Helen knows her game like a book from start to finish.

Miss Mary K. Browne, the champion of 1912, 1913 and 1914, who has been doing so well at her comeback, probably will meet the champion in the semi-finals round and she is the only one who has a game that may force her sister Californian. Miss Brown will mix them up but she will be very busy taking care of her own side of the net.

There are eight survivors ready for the round before the semi-final which is to start this afternoon. In the upper half Mrs. Mallory opposes Mrs. F. V. Roeser, the former Miss Edna Hauselt, Metropolitan indoor champion, and Miss Eleanor Goss plays the young Jersey girl, Miss Martha Bayard.

Mrs. Mallory and Miss Gross, on dope, should survive. In the lower half Miss Wills meets Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, and Miss Browne plays against Miss Mayme McDonald, clay court champion.

Tongue Twisters That Have Become Classics

Some time ago there appeared in the British comic Journal Punch, a particularly effective tongue twister, which ran something to this effect:

A lady was walking down a country lane when she met a tinker. "Ah," she said, "I see you are copper-bottoming your pots." "Oh, no," he replied, "I'm aluminizing 'em, mum." As a tongue twister this is pretty hard to get, though perhaps the American form of the words is just a trifle more difficult to wrap one's tongue around: "I'm aluminizing 'em, mum."

There are, of course, many thousands of these traps for the unwary floating about. Here are a few. The test is, not merely to say them, but to manage to repeat them quickly, say a half a dozen times without getting one's tongue tied up in a knot.

The sea coasts and it suffices us. A growing gleam growing green. The bleak breeze blighted the bright bloom blossoms.

She took a switch at Smith's fish sauce shop.

Wives Beat Husbands

Wives may whip faithless husbands and the husbands mustn't complain, according to a recent decision of the Austrian Supreme court. When a woman beats her wayward spouse, the court held, such a beating is "but the natural reaction to his conduct."

COOLIDGE ACCEPTS WITH CONFIDENCE

Asks Just Taxation.
"Only about 3,500,000 people pay direct income taxes. The remainder pay but pay indirectly, in the cost of all purchases, from a pair of shoes to a railroad ticket. This country has at least 107,000,000 of these indirect taxpayers. I am not disturbed about the effect on a few thousand people with large incomes because they have to pay high surtaxes. They can take care of themselves, whatever happens, as the rich always can. What concerns me is the indirect effect of high surtaxes on all the rest of the people. Let us always remember the poor. Whatever cry the demagogue may make about his ability to tax the rich, at the end of the year it will always be found that the people as a whole have paid the taxes. We should, therefore, have a system of taxation under which the people as a whole are most likely to be prosperous. Our country will be better off if, disregarding those who appeal to jealousy and envy, it follows in taxation and all else the straight path of justice."

For Economical Campaign.
"Economy should be practiced scrupulously in the conduct of a national campaign. I know it is difficult to distinguish between real service to the people and mere wastefulness. Costs have increased by doubling of the electorate, rendering close calculation impossible."

"Nevertheless, I can perceive no reason why the budget system should not be beneficial in a campaign, as it has proved to be in government. It is to be tested by our committee."

"I would make clearly and definitely one other requirement, that no individual, or group of individuals, may expect any governmental favors in return for party assistance. Whatever anyone gives must be given for the common good, or not at all. Contributions can be received on no other basis."

"For the first time after having opportunity fully to organize, the women of the nation are bringing the new force which they represent directly to bear on our political affairs. I know that the influence of womanhood will guard the home, which is the citadel of the nation. I know it will be a protector of childhood. I know it will be on the side of humanity. I welcome it as a great instrument of mercy and a mighty agency of peace. I want every woman to vote."

"The Constitution is the sole source and guaranty of national freedom. We believe that the safest place to declare and interpret the Constitution which the people have made is in the Supreme court of the United States."

"Under our institutions there is no limitation on the aspirations a mother may have for her children. That system I pray to continue. This country would not be a land of opportunity, America would not be America, if the people were shackled with government monopolies."

"Our country has adopted prohibition and provided by legislation for its enforcement. It is the duty of the citizen to observe the law, and the duty of the Executive to enforce. I propose to do my duty as best I can."

For Child Labor Amendment.
"Our different states have had different standards, or no standards at all, for child labor. The congress should have authority to provide a uniform law applicable to the whole nation which will protect childhood. Our country cannot afford to let any one live off the earnings of its youth of tender years. Their places are not in the factory, but in the school, that the men and women of tomorrow may reach a higher state of existence and the nation a higher standard of citizenship."

"I am in favor of national defense, not merely as an abstract state of mind, but as a concrete mode of action. I favor not merely talking about it, but doing something about it. I do not want the safety of my country to be imperiled in its domestic or foreign relations by any failure to be ready to preserve order or repel attack. But I propose to work for voluntary observance of law and mutual covenants of peace."

Common Sense Greatest Asset.

"We are likely to hear a great deal of discussion about liberal thought and progressive action. It is well for the country to have liberality in thought and progress in action, but its greatest asset is common sense. In the commonplaces of life lies the strength of the nation. It is not in brilliant conceptions and strokes of genius that we shall find the chief reliance of our country, but in the home, in the school, and in religion. America will continue to defend these shrines. Every evil force that seeks to desecrate or destroy them will find that a Higher Power has endowed the people with an inherent spirit of resistance. The people know the difference between pretense and reality. They want to be told the truth. They want to be trusted. They want a chance to work out their own material and spiritual salvation. The people want a government of common sense."

"These, Mr. Chairman, are some of the beliefs which I hold, some of the principles which I propose to support. Because I am convinced that they are true, because I am satisfied that they are sound, I submit them with abiding faith to the judgment of the American people."

The Obscure and Faithful

What we call illusions are often, in truth, a wider vision of past and present realities—a willing movement of a man's soul with the larger sweep of the world's forces—a movement toward a more assured end than the chances of a single life. We see human heroism broken into units and say this unit did little—might as well not have been. But in this way we might break up a great army into units; in this way we might break the sunlight into fragments, and think that this and the other might be cheaply parted with it. Let us, rather, raise a monument to the soldiers whose brave hearts only kept the ranks unbroken, and met death—a monument to the faithful who were not famous, and who are precious as the continuity of the sunbeams is precious, though some of them fall unseen and on barrenness.—George Eliot.

House Paint Once Banned

Linseed oil was first made in New York in 1715. Pigments were all imported. In New England there was much prejudice against the use of paint, it being considered a sign of worldliness and vanity.

In 1830 a clergyman in Charlestown, Mass., was hailed before the council for having the interior of his house painted, and during the ensuing 40 years there was not a painter in all New England. Still, by 1750 the use of paint had become general throughout the country, the white house with green blinds for many years being the common form of exterior painting in all parts of the United States. This manner of painting frame houses is today enjoying popularity. In fact, in some quarters this color scheme is criticised as lacking individuality.

Scored on the Orator

The atmosphere was getting slightly heated in the village hall, where the candidate for office was addressing a meeting of those who he hoped would vote for him at the next election.

One man in the crowd was determined not to give the aspirant a moment's peace, and he didn't. At last the speaker lost his last remnant of patience and, shaking his fist at the heckler, he shouted:

"I look upon you, sir as a confounded rascal."

"Quite," replied the interrupter, with a sweet smile. "You are perfectly at liberty to look upon me in any character you desire to assume."

WALKER PICKED TO BEAT LEONARD

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 15.—Fight fans figure that for once Benny Leonard has bitten off more than he can chew, in contracting to fight Mickey Walker for the welterweight crown on August 20.

Leonard has been absent from the ring for 11 months, and the conditions under which he signed to meet the Elizabeth, N. J., boy required that neither engage in any tune-up bouts.

This lack of fighting is going to tell against Benneh, while Walker has had nine bouts in the past year. The lightweight champion signed for a fight with Pal Moran in Cleveland on August 11, but had to call it off, under the agreement.

Youth, superior stamina and strength, and ability to take a beating also are in Walker's favor.

Keeness of eye, speed of hand and foot, and muscular co-ordination have always been Leonard's long suits, but he cannot hope to keep them to the point of perfection unless he has an occasional fight. And all Benny's fighting recently has been beneath the Kleigs of filmdom.

Last September, the lightweight champ went eight easy rounds with Johnny Mendelsohn of Philadelphia, and has done a little sparring at his camp at Tannersville, N. Y.

Mickey Walker has proven he can take as hard a punching as Leonard has to offer, and come back for more. The welter king took some tough knocks from Morrie Schaffer, as hard a hitter as there is in the welter ranks, and finally flattened the Omaha boy.

Like Jack Dempsey, Walker is a disciple of the outdoors. Leonard has been keeping late hours, to say the least.

Walker hits harder, but lets them go with much less accuracy. Benny has it all over the New Jersey boy when it comes to deadly punching on the mark.

The fight should be a great one, from the box office point of view, because both men have their following and their share of popularity, Mickey's making up in genuineness of feeling for what Benny has in point of numbers.

It would not be surprising to see Leonard out-box Walker for the 15 rounds, with neither man seriously hurt. Local fight fans think differently. They pick Mickey to win.

HELEN WILLS IS FAVORED TO KEEP TENNIS TITLE

CHAMPION IS 10 TO 1 A RULING FAVORITE WITH FANS

MOLLA, IT IS THOUGHT, WILL BE FINALIST IN TOURNEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL

Forest Hills, New York, Aug. 15.—"She's getting so good she'll have to be entered in the men's division before long," a prominent tennis official said of Miss Helen Wills, the national and Olympic champion, at the West Side Tennis club today.

The young Californian has the field so outclassed that she is a 10 to 1 shot to retain her championship title and if she gets by this year, there will be no way to stop her for years. It looks as if Mrs. Molla Mallory, who lost the championship last year, will be a finalist. The former champion hardly can be expected to do better than she did against the California girl at Forest Hills and in Paris because Helen knows her game like a book from start to finish.

Miss Mary K. Browne, the champion of 1912, 1913 and 1914, who has been doing so well at her comeback, probably will meet the champion in the semi-finals round and she is the only one who has a game that may force her sister Californian. Miss Brown will mix them up but she will be very busy taking care of her own side of the net.

There are eight survivors ready for the round before the semi-final which is to start this afternoon. In the upper half Mrs. Mallory opposes Mrs. F. V. Roeser, the former Miss Edna Hauselt, Metropolitan indoor champion, and Miss Eleanor Goss plays the young Jersey girl, Miss Martha Bayard.

Mrs. Mallory and Miss Goss, on the other hand, are expected to survive. In the lower half Miss Wills meets Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, and Miss Browne plays against Miss Mayme McDonald, clay court champion.

Games Today
St. Paul at Louisville.
Minneapolis at Indianapolis.
Milwaukee at Toledo.
Kansas City at Columbus.

Tongue Twisters That Have Become Classics

Some time ago there appeared in the British comic Journal Punch, a particularly effective tongue twister, which ran something to this effect:

A lady was walking down a country lane when she met a tinker. "Ah," she said. "I see you are copper-bottoming your pots." "Oh, no," he replied. "I'm aluminizing 'em, mum." As a tongue twister this is pretty hard to get, though perhaps the American form of the words is just a trifle more difficult to wrap one's tongue around: "I'm aluminizing 'em, mum."

There are, of course, many thousands of these traps for the unwary floating about. Here are a few. The test is, not merely to say them, but to manage to repeat them quickly, say a half a dozen times without getting one's tongue tied up in a knot.

The sea ceaseth and it sufficeth us. A growing green growing green. The black breeze blighted the bright bloom blossoms.

She took a switch at Smith's fish sauce shop.

Flesh of fresh-frying fish. High roller, low roller, lower roller. A box of mixed biscuits, a mixed biscuit box.

She stood at the gate welcoming him in.

She sells sea shells on the sea shore. Which switch is the switch, miss, for Ipswich?—Kansas City Star.

Wives Beat Husbands

Wives may whip faithless husbands and the husbands mustn't complain, according to a recent decision of the Austrian Supreme court. When a woman beats her wayward spouse, the court held, such a beating is "but the natural reaction to his conduct."

COOLIDGE ACCEPTS WITH CONFIDENCE

Asks Just Taxation.
"Only about 3,500,000 people pay direct income taxes. The remainder pay but pay indirectly, in the cost of all purchases, from a pair of shoes to a railroad ticket. This country has at least 107,000,000 of these indirect taxpayers. I am not disturbed about the effect on a few thousand people with large incomes because they have to pay high surtaxes. They can take care of themselves, whatever happens, as the rich always can. What concerns me is the indirect effect of high surtaxes on all the rest of the people. Let us always remember the poor. Whatever cry the demagogue may make about his ability to tax the rich, at the end of the year it will always be found that the people as a whole have paid the taxes. We should, therefore, have a system of taxation under which the people as a whole are most likely to be prosperous. Our country will be better off if, disregarding those who appeal to jealousy and envy, it follows in taxation and all else the straight path of justice."

For Economical Campaign.
"Economy should be practiced scrupulously in the conduct of a national campaign. I know it is difficult to distinguish between real service to the people and mere wastefulness. Costs have increased by doubling of the electorate, rendering close calculation impossible."

"Nevertheless, I can perceive no reason why the budget system should not be beneficial in a campaign, as it has proved to be in government. It is to be tested by our committee."

"I would make clearly and definitely one other requirement, that no individual, or group of individuals, may expect any governmental favors in return for party assistance. Whatever anyone gives must be given for the common good, or not at all. Contributions can be received on no other basis."

"For the first time after having opportunity fully to organize, the women of the nation are bringing the new force which they represent directly to bear on our political affairs. I know that the influence of womanhood will guard the home, which is the citadel of the nation. I know it will be a protector of childhood. I know it will be on the side of humanity. I welcome it as a great instrument of mercy and a mighty agency of peace. I want every woman to vote."

"The Constitution is the sole source and guaranty of national freedom. We believe that the safest place to declare and interpret the Constitution which the people have made is in the Supreme court of the United States."

"Under our institutions there is no limitation on the aspirations a mother may have for her children. That system I pray to continue. This country would not be a land of opportunity, America would not be America, if the people were shackled with government monopolies."

"Our country has adopted prohibition and provided by legislation for its enforcement. It is the duty of the citizen to observe the law, and the duty of the Executive to enforce. I propose to do my duty as best I can."

For Child Labor Amendment.
"Our different states have had different standards, or no standards at all, for child labor. The congress should have authority to provide a uniform law applicable to the whole nation which will protect childhood. Our country cannot afford to let anyone live off the earnings of its youth of tender years. Their places are not in the factory, but in the school, that the men and women of tomorrow may reach a higher state of existence and the nation a higher standard of citizenship."

"I am in favor of national defense, not merely as an abstract state of mind, but as a concrete mode of action. I favor not merely talking about it, but doing something about it. I do not want the safety of my country to be imperiled in its domestic or foreign relations by any failure to be ready to preserve order or repel attack. But I propose to work for voluntary observance of law and mutual covenants of peace."

Common Sense Greatest Asset.
"We are likely to hear a great deal of discussion about liberal thought and progressive action. It is well for the country to have liberality in thought and progress in action, but its greatest asset is common sense. In the common sense things of life lies the strength of the nation. It is not in brilliant conceptions and strokes of genius that we shall find the chief reliance of our country, but in the home, in the school, and in religion. America will continue to defend these shrines. Every evil force that seeks to desecrate or destroy them will find that a Higher Power has endowed the people with an inherent spirit of resistance. The people know the difference between pretense and reality. They want to be told the truth. They want to be trusted. They want a chance to work out their own material and spiritual salvation. The people want a government of common sense."

"These, Mr. Chairman, are some of the beliefs which I hold, some of the principles which I propose to support. Because I am convinced that they are true, because I am satisfied that they are sound, I submit them with abiding faith to the judgment of the American people."

The Obscure and Faithful

What we call illusions are often, in truth, a wider vision of past and present realities—a willing movement of a man's soul with the larger sweep of the world's forces—a movement toward a more assured end than the chances of a single life. We see human heroism broken into units and say this unit did little—might as well not have been. But in this way we might break up a great army into units; in this way we might break the sunlight into fragments, and think that this and the other might be cheaply parted with it. Let us, rather, raise a monument to the soldiers whose brave hearts only kept the ranks unbroken, and met death—a monument to the faithful who were not famous, and who are precious as the continuity of the sunbeams is precious, though some of them fall unseen and on barrenness.—George Eliot.
